

Web Site Development

Course Audience

This course is aimed at beginners who wish to develop their own site or work with existing sites but have little or no experience with HTML or CSS. We shall bring participants from a basic understanding to an intermediate skill level where you shall be comfortable using various techniques in HTML (Hyper Text Mark-Up Language) and CSS (Cascading Style Sheets).

Topics Covered

- Learning to write HTML from scratch using Notepad++
- Learning to write CSS and integrate it with your HTML
- A brief introduction to Javascript using the jQuery framework
- A brief introduction to PHP

Outputs

- How to setup and customise your own Wordpress based web site
- Optimise your site for Google and other search engine
- Optimise your site with Search Engine Optimisation for increased traffic

Duration

The schedule for the course is one night per week, from circa 18:30-21:30, for 8 weeks, dates available at our web site www.eden.ie

Costs

The fee for this programme is €395, includes tuition, individual workstation at Eden, and documentation. On successful completion of the course there is the opportunity to pursue certification through FETAC by way of project submission.

About Eden Training

Thank you for your enquiry into Eden Training, one of Ireland's leading training organisations. We were founded in 1999 and have trained people from all industry sectors in Ireland in IT Skills and Business Skills.

Our head office is located in Rathfarnham, Dublin 16, map available at www.eden.ie. These offices are conveniently located to the M50 and all of the major Dublin business parks. We have state of the art training rooms and computers.

These facilities merged with ample parking in a quiet environment make for an ideal training venue. We also have training facilities in Dublin city centre and train nationwide either on a customer's own premises or in facilities nearby. We offer a range of public courses aimed at the individual or we can tailor courses to meet the specific needs of our clients.